IMPACT NEWS

Happy New Year to you and thanks to everyone who ordered their Christmas games from the Club. Finishing work at midnight became almost standard during the last 3 weeks before the big day but we're not moaning. Our same day despatch was maintained right up to the 23rd of December and hopefully Postman Pat delivered the goods in time. Good old Pat.

For 1989 we've added lots of new features to the magazine which no doubt you'll notice as you read on. Many of these additions are a result of suggestions by members so if you have any ideas please let us know.

The most requested addition was the production of joke sheets as mentioned in the last issue. These are now available free when you buy games and there are some real sidesplitters amongst them. Thanks to everyone who has sent in their jokes and we've given credits to the people whose jokes we have used. Where more than one person sent in the same joke we have credited the first person to send it.

There are also more additions to the helpsheet range including a much requested helpsheet for Exile. Plus Frak, Hoverboard and Terramex. As usual there will be further additions next month.

And what's more there is the New Year release of Orbital which is a highly enjoyable arcade game and is fully reviewed this month. We hope to produce a full set of maps for the game next month.

THE BENEFITS

6 NEW ARCHIMEDES GAMES

There's never been a better time to own an Archimedes. During the first 6 months of it's launch there were only 3 releases altogether and now WHAM!!! there are 6 releases this month alone.

These are Pacmania, Star Trader, Repton 3, Jet Fighter, Rise in Crime and Word Up and Word Down. Plus a couple more fairly soon, The Blood of the Mutineers and Fish.

THE BBC & ELECTRON GAMES SCENE

A whole host of very varied games are presently underway from all the major games publishers. We'll run through the publishers in alphabetical order giving a quick run down of their present activities:

ASL - Fab Four is their new compilation and is previewed later on. They are also working on a game called Helter Skelter which is being programmed by Peter Scott.

Atlantis - They've a few budget cassette games planned, the first of which will be Storm Cycle.

Blue Ribbon - Four more Superior rereleases are due very soon. We hear that they may include Strykers Run, Craze Rider, Galaforce and Repton 2. However we're not sure.

CDS - Their next release will be a strategy game called Tankattack. This will be a simulation of a tank battle - surprise, surprise. It can involve 2 to 4 players who take on the role of Tank Corps Generals.

Domark - The latest in their TV games series is Bob's Full House. Not one of my favourite TV quiz shows but if you into quiz games you may like this one. How about Michael (Oh no

ACORN GAMES BOOM

The sheer volume of orders this Christmas leads us to the conclusion that a new boom is occurring for all the Acorn machines. Games at all the price levels are selling extremely well including budget, £10 plus and our own new price levels which have proved to be very popular. We can only conclude that it is the sheer quality of recent releases by almost all of the software houses that is causing this surprise upsurge in sales. Certainly there are a lot of really good games around at the moment which were not equaled last year. Whatever the reason it's good news for everyone. Good sales lead to more competition and it's the games player who benefits at the end of the day.

a Hotspot) Barrimore's "Strike It Lucky", Nic The Teeth's "Concorntraashuun" or even Blinketi Blonk cos you wouldn't have to worry about the prizes. Now be honest, wouldn't they make class computer games?

Impact - We're currently working on 6 games plus a Joe 4 but you know what they say: "Never tell the left hand what the right hand is doing". And anyway there's far too few surprises in this life.

Robico - Another one for adventure fans should be available soon: The Blood of the Mutineers.

Superior - After a blitz of games from Superior in December they don't seem to have much planned for 1989. The Question of Sport is another TV quiz game put onto the computer. This should appeal to sport's fans but will be very highly priced. And as long as giggling Emyln isn't in it I might have a go myself.

Tynesoft - They're currently working on 2 new games - Circus Games and Superman. Both games are previewed later in this issue of the mag; or should I say THE mag.

IMPACT NEWSLINE

Dial (0898) 654334

For news that really is up to the minute ring our innovative newsline. The newsline is updated everytime a new game is actually released. This is particularly useful because many companies publicise their games long before they are actually released. Basically it is a 2 minute recorded message which can be dialled 24 hours a day. Younger members are advised to obtain permission from their parents before calling.

ACCESS CARD HOTLINE

Dial (0742) 769950

Ring the Hotline between 8.30am and 5pm and your order will be despatched the same day by 1st Class Post. Access orders can be placed between 5 and 6pm but will be despatched the next day. Hundreds of members used this service over the busy Christmas period and many have written expressing their amazement at the speed of service. One member over the water in Jersey ordered 3 times and each time received his order the next day. To save writing cheques you can also just put the Access number and the card holders name on your Club Order Form.

PLAY IT YET AGAIN!

PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM 6

Publisher: Superior

Here's another in the now well established Sam series following hot on the heels of the excellent Play It Again, Sam 5.

Once again it gets a big thumbs up from Impact with a good selection of quality games together in one package.

GALAFORCE 2: If you liked Galaforce you'll love Galaforce 2. The game has lots of new features and improves on the areas where Galaforce lacked.

It's faster, there's a two player option, more alien patterns and bonus capsules which are dropped when aliens are shot. These give such things as rapid fire but there can be bad effects such as key reversing.

There are 16 galaxies in total and you return to the first after completing them all only things are much harder second time around. The inclusion of a jump feature is a well considered addition which adds immensely to playability.

All in all it's fast, blasting action at it's best.

HUNCHBACK: The game that put Superior on the map back in 1983. Hunchback is an addictive and amusing game, which despite the slightly dated programming techniques, still has a good appeal. Younger players will particularly like this one as they try to guide poor old Quazi along the ramparts of the castle.

All sorts of hazards await him including arrows, flying rocks, guards, swinging ropes and death defying leaps to be made.

Now available for the Electron, Hunchback has to be regarded as something of a classic.

HOPPER: A Frogger conversion. You can already get budget versions of the Frogger game including Superior's own version and indeed Hopper itself. This is without doubt the best conversion of the arcade game but is definitely the weak point of this Sam as so many players are likely to have a copy already. If not it is well worth having this one.

The idea is to guide the family of frogs across the busy road and then the crocodile infested river to the safety of their riverside burrows (do frogs have burrows?). Straight forward arcade fun.

THE SENTINEL (BBC only): A totally original game by Geoff (Revs) Crammond. It never really did very well for Firebird which was a pity as it certainly is good. A massive landscape with 10 000 lands is the scenario and you must strategically battle against the Sentinel to gain control of the landscape.

The Sentinel and his sentries can be seen on the map. They will remain inactive until you take action and you can move around and plan your attack before starting.

You can create robots and transport between them and must try to get as much energy as possible. The Sentinel will be trying to stop you. By draining your energy with a number of devious tricks. A strange game which has no companions so it's hard to describe. Without a doubt it makes this package easily worth the money.

VIDEO'S REVENGE (Electron only): This is a vertically scrolling shoot'em up which certainly is all action. It really is not in the league of The Sentinel but there is a great deal of zapping and it's good fun.

IMPACT SOFTWARE NEWS

Impact Software's first Christmas was a real cracker with a terrific response from members to all of our 1988 releases. The best overall seller was Cheat It Again, Joe Volume 1. Has this got anything to do with the mega Elite cheat we wonder?

We all worked extremely hard over the Christmas period to ensure that we could get the latest release "Orbital" ready for the New Year. We hope you'll give it a try and we're certain that you won't be disappointed.

We also have a new game planned for February but we want to keep it a surprise.

Joe 4 is initially scheduled for March and will include cheats for lots of the recent new releases but we can't say which just yet.

Our plan for 1989 is to bring out a release each month if possible. This is obviously subject to receiving enough quality games to publish but things look promising so far. Some months may even see 2 releases (maybe even 3) but who knows.

So there's plenty to look forward to this year and we'll give you all the latest developments as they happen. Sometimes things happen so fast at Impact that we don't always know the next months releases ourselves. A game can be released in 3 weeks if we pull the stops out.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE ONE ABOUT THE.....?

The response to the jokes competition has been the best ever. The decision was very difficult but we eventually chose one winner who is Carl Bateman from Stoke-on-Trent. See opposite page for his cartoon entry.

As you may have seen in the helpsheets section (Back Page) we've now added The Impact Jokes Vols 1 & 2 which you can get free with your games. Plus from now on we're going to include a few jokes on the Club Talk pages and here's a few for starters:

A man goes into a scrapyard. He asks the owner, "Can I have a petrol cap for my Skoda?"

The owner says, "Yeah, sounds like a fair exchange."

What's this?

(A) A drunk drinking out of a bucket.

Some Batty Boys:

The Haunted House by Hugo First
Hole In My Bucket by Lee King
Jungle Stories by Ann T Lape
Easy Money by Robin Banks

"There was once a green man who lived in a cottage. One day, he was having a bath; when the doorbell rang. He threw a towel round himself and answered the door. It was a lady. Just then, the green man's towel fell down. The lady screamed, ran across the road, and got run over."

...And do you know what the moral of this story is?
"Never cross the road when the green man is flashing!"

What were Batman and Robin called after they'd been run over by a steam roller?
Flatman and Ribbon

Thanks to Matthew Edmunds of Cowbridge, Namita Kashyap of Hayes, A Single of Tonbridge, Justin Jones of Tunbridge Wells and Philip Hounsell of Eastleigh.

Keep the jokes coming in. We love 'em.

JANUARY COMPETITION

Win £50 worth of games

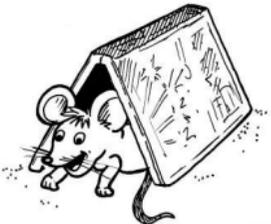

This month's competition is all about rubbish games. There are 2 parts to the competition.

Firstly tell us what you think is the worst game ever and in about 30 words tell us why it was so bad.

Secondly we want to know what you think is the best use for a totally non-playable game. (For example you might use it as a doorstop, a table leg-prop etc etc.)

The winner will be the entry that comes up with the best use for their all time duffo game.

All entries to be received by 15th February, 1988. The winner will be announced in the March issue and will be contacted by us in late February.

MEMBERS LETTERS

Is there anything you would like to say to 10 000 other people? If so drop us a line and you may see it printed in our next magazine. Letters can be on any subject (obviously printable) and need not necessarily be to do with computers or games. If we think it will be of interest (and if there is enough space in this column) then we'll include it.

We'll also take requests for Birthday greetings but as we have not had any so far there's only one person who we know who was born in January. Yes you've guessed it - Happy Birthday Mark Batterill on 17th Jan. (Who's Mark Batterill? - It's me).

To start us going here's a letter from someone who suggested that we started a letters column.

"Dear Impact,

Thanks for a great magazine and for giving such low prices on so many games. Here's an idea on how you can make it even better.

Why not start a letters section so that members can air their views.

There must be a lot of people who have something to say.

What have I got to say for example?

Well thanks to Mark Gidley for the Cheat It Again Joes. I didn't know what to make of them at first but now it's on Play It Again Sam 4 loads people should want one.

Also I'd like a helpsheet for Frak!! I know it's old but now it's on Play It Again Sam 4 loads people should want one.

You can print this if you want - but I know you probably won't."

J Cooper, Wakefield

Well we did print it Mr Cooper and it just goes to show that you don't get anything in this country unless you go "NRGH+HLPERIUDJHSDFN." - EH?

EXILED

Superior certainly went to town on the Exile BBC Disc protection. About 1 in 20 buyers couldn't get it to load at all. Joke competition winner Carl Bateman has this to say:

Publisher: Grandslam

This conversion of the latest arcade smash was another game that we did not know about until a review copy suddenly turned up in our mail bag.

What can we say - wow, bang, pop it's the best game yet for the Archimedes.

Everything about the game is pure class and this easily stands out as the star release of the Archie releases this month.

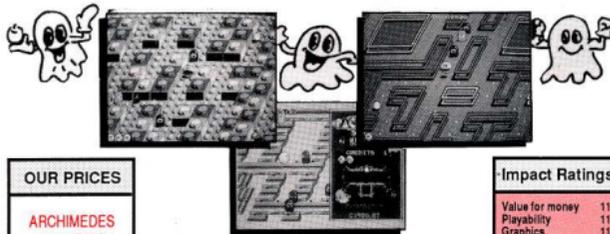

The game obviously is a huge step up from the original PacMan arcade game from years ago. However the perspective has been changed from overhead to a 3D viewpoint.

The game is basically the same with new additions such as the ability to jump over ghosts, speed up pills and new types of ghost. Don't let the PacMan idea put you off though because the new layout makes it absolutely hilarious.

There are 4 brilliantly designed backdrops - Blocktown, PacMans Park, Sandbox Land and Jungly Steps. Each has it's own music (again top rate in all cases) and the graphics for each are of a quality that you would expect of the very latest arcade machines.

The sound effects are based on the classic original effects including the munching, dying etc. plus a lot more.

The animation of the ghosts and the main character is only surpassed by the quality of the scrolling.

There are lots of levels of play, stunning between-level effects and plenty of the little features that show the care that has been put into this game.

All the above having been said the greatest thing about the game is the sheer fun and excitement of playing it. It's a game for everyone from about 5 years to 120, male or female, basically anyone who wants a good time.

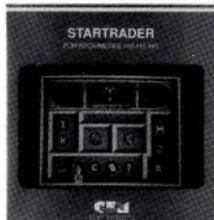

Congratulations Grandslam on setting a new standard for Archimedes games.

If you are considering buying a game then I unreservedly recommend this one. You won't be disappointed and you certainly can't need to be a PacMan fan to get totally hooked on Pacmania.

THE LAST NINJA

Publisher: Superior

We've only actually seen this game on the Commodore as Superior are developing a habit of advertising games long before they are released. Looking at their screenshots it does seem to be very well converted and it should be available from us by the time you read this preview.

The basic plot of the game is that the evil Shogun has nicked all the scrolls of the Ninja Brotherhood and murdered them all except for one ... You. The Last Ninja.

It is your duty to recover these scrolls by making your way through the various scenarios, finding weapons and taking care of the various bad guys.

All good violent stuff and it certainly scored a big hit on the Commodore. I certainly enjoyed the Commodore version (which multi-tasked as you progressed) and the range of battles, weapons and fighting techniques certainly is more varied than games like Barbarian, the Big KO etc.

Can't wait to see it.

CIRCUS GAMES

Well it does seem that Circus Games will be launched for the Beeb and Elk after having seen a preview at the Electron and BBC Micro User Show in November.

In common with Winter Olympiad, Summer Olympiad etc it will be a multi-part game including hopzies, tightrope walking, tiger taming and bareback horse riding. Also featured are clown and other notorious Big Top characters to add to the atmosphere.

The graphics look excellent and we would love to have a go but a brief word of warning if you wish to order it. We have no date for its launch.

We won't kid you. We don't know much about the Superman game yet. All we do know is that it follows the caped crime crusader on his adventures. It looks as though it will be an arcade style game with icon controls.

Originally planned for release before Christmas there is no sign of its launch at present. Perhaps they mean next Christmas.

FAB FOUR

Publisher: ASL

ASL's long awaited Fab Four should appear before long. It includes 2 existing games, Thunderstruck 2 and Omega Orb, plus sequels of Psychocta and Sphere of Destiny. Both the sequels (Apfly named Psychocta 2 and Sphere of Destiny 2) will contain new improved screens and should start where the others left off. Overall it seems like a package that will offer great value for money and a lot of variety.
